If you've ever heard someone say that he needs a vacation from his vacation, they've probably not spent time at a dude ranch in Colorado. For many, a vacation is supposed to be down-time and a way to get out of the daily grind. So, instead of going to an overcrowded beach or theme park, going to some far off ranch and really unplugging for a while, might be just the thing you need.

A lot of folks just don't consider a vacation a success unless they've had an adventure. That's precisely what a Colorado dude ranch can provide. Not only is a great exercise, it can be romantic, an opportunity to make lifelong friends and to commune with nature.

It's no easy feat to plan a trip the whole family will enjoy. Everyone seems to have their preferences when it comes to where, and how, to take a vacation. You might not think so at first, but a dude ranch in Colorado has a lot to offer for just about every personality and age group.

Dude ranches, Colorado style in particular, are as varied as the people seeking out the vacation. The accommodations aren't always rustic. In fact, some are quite opulent. At a dude ranch, you can enjoy home cooked meals, cookouts, wagon rides, fishing, and square dances. Many ranches provide extra creature comforts too, like swimming pools, hot tubs, and game rooms.

When considering what ranch to visit, ask yourself if you want something authentic or not. If you're up for it, look to stay at a working ranch. These locations view guests as an add-on to their core activities and you will get a very realistic experience. On the other hand, if you're prefer to be a spectator and enjoy the great outdoors in more controlled ways like pools, kayaking and hiking, avoid the working ranch.

All Colorado dude ranches have horses, that's for sure. What's more, one of the main activities of your stay will be horseback riding, often all day long. One of the best ways to spend a day is on the back of a horse, looking out at nature's splendor. Young and old will enjoy the adventure, and talk about it for years to come.
